

ALPHA & RCIA COURSES

St Gregory's and St Oswald's are supporting an all-Chorley parishes Alpha and linked RCIA course initiative, starting in September this year. The Alpha Course is best described as an intro to Christianity and is designed for people who do not go to church but perhaps are searching for answers to life's big questions. It is also suitable for those who have stopped practising their faith but are also searching. The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is for those who wish to take their interest further and, perhaps, become Catholics. Each Parish has also been asked to nominate one or two parishioners to join the Alpha team. The plan would be that they would accompany any current or prospective members of their Parish through both the Alpha and RCIA process. Training and support will be provided, and to be successful you don't need to have any qualifications, just a love of your own faith and an ability to make guests feel welcomed and respected, and a willingness to work in a team!

REFLECTION

In today's gospel, Jesus puts before each of us the great command 'love one another, just as I love you'. It is a command that connects us closely to others, to those around us, in our families and in our communities. Jesus doesn't say, put up with each other, tolerate each other, like each other or get along with each other - he is very clear - we are to love each other. And this can be more challenging and difficult than it sounds! To really love each other as Jesus asks is easy to talk about as a nice idea - but so much harder to put into practice! It is said that love is the true mark of a Christian. As Christians we are all followers of Christ but not all of us are true followers. Some are Christians in name only, some by convenience, and others are seasonal Christians. Going to church, praying and joining religious organisations or ministries, though these are commendable in themselves, are not proof of being true followers of Christ. Everything we do that may be good in itself loses meaning and value when it is not done out of love. In other words, the value of anything we do will only come when we do it out of love. Then and only then can we be considered true followers of Christ. Jesus tells his disciples that they will know that they are his disciples because of the love they show for one another. We don't need to be heroic in our acts of love, nor do we need to do spectacular acts to demonstrate love, however, the love Jesus talks of is shown in service and sacrifice. The example of Jesus can help us at times when it can be hard to see goodness even in those we love. In this Easter season, there is no harm in reminding ourselves of the lengths Jesus went to physically demonstrate his love for each of us. On Holy Thursday he got down on his knees to wash our feet. On Good Friday he was lifted up on the cross for us and on Easter Sunday he burst out of the tomb with the gift of new life. As followers of Jesus today, we are called to follow his example through the quality of our daily lives, through how we treat each other and speak to each other. Our actions will speak louder than our words. As John of the Cross reminds us, 'at the end of our lives, God will not judge us on our earthly possessions and our human achievements but on how much we have loved.'
